Say, fellows, did it ever occur to you how nice it would be to have a regular little flameless cooking outfit—heat drinks, shaving water, anything? Here it is:

The 2½ lb. HOTPOINT ELECTRIC IRON, attached to any lamp socket, serves as the stove when placed in the inverting stand; and the covered dish (holds three cups) fits right on top of the iron.

Iron may be used for pressing. Also has hole in rear for heating curling tongs.

Think of what a useful, welcome gift this neat little outfit (packed in its leather bag) will be for "HER." A dandy, eh?

BIG FOOTBALL "M'S" GRANTED

Class Numerals May Also be Given by Athletic Assn.

ONE MAN RE-INSTATED

F. H. Booth Suspended For Playing Class Football Without Being Examined.

A long and important meeting of the Athletic Association was held on Monday evening, at which many matters were dealt with.

The president first reported that he had received applications on Friday, November 12, from:

C. W. Ryan, Sci. '16;
J. A. Ferguson, Sci. '17;
G. L. Trapp, Sci. '17;
F. G. Rounthwaite, Sci. '16, and
A. A. Brown, Sci. '16,

asking permission to play football with outside teams. Pending a meeting of the Athletic Association, Mr. Cushing had granted them this permission. The meeting ratified his action in this matter.

An application was read from the secretary of the Affiliated Colleges Basketball League, submitting a list of names of men who wish to play with various teams of this league, and asking that permission be granted them to do so. Sanction was granted to the following men:

T. W. Jones Arts '16
J. A. Steed Arts '16
J. H. Schofield Arts '16
H. L. Broomfield Arts '19
W. C. Armstrong Arts '16
G. G. Burton Arts '16
W. P. Bunt Arts '16
C. F. Davis Arts '19
G. N. Maxwell Arts '17
W. Hendry Arts '18
M. McLennan Arts '18
M. McLennan Arts '18
A. N. Reid Arts '18
G. Sherman Arts '19
P. A. G. Clark Arts '17
G. M. Cameron Arts '18

These men must of course be examined and passed by the medical doctor before taking part in any game.

Letters were read from:

M. H. Myerson Arts '16, Law '17
A. K. Viner Arts '17
A. Clarke Sci. '17
R. Perrault Sci. '17
R. F. Malo Med. '20
R. M. Pendrigh Med. '20
S. H. O'Brien Med. '16

asking to be reinstated. Their cases were laid on the table for future action.

A letter from J. C. Paddon, Sci. '18, was read, and after consideration of his explanatory statement as to the circumstances which led to his suspension by the Athletic Association, he was reinstated in good standing in college athletics.

A letter from M. I. Sigler, Arts '16, was also read, but his application for reinstatement was refused.

The next matter discussed was that of a petition which had been made to the Athletic Association, asking that D. C. Smelzer, Med. '18, be granted a large block "M" for his performances in the college track meet. This petition, which had been rather widely circulated, mentioned that Smelzer had won the individual championship in that meet, and had in the previous year won his big M in the intercollegiate meet.

The Athletic Association, however, after careful reconsideration of the matter, could not see that Smelzer's performances entitled him to the first grade M. He had undoubtedly made a fine all-round exhibition, but even by a most favorable comparison of his marks with those of the other colleges, he would not have gained in intercollegiate competition the five points necessary to the winning of the large M.

In this connection it was brought to the notice of the A. A. that, although Messrs. Klein, Smelzer and Parsons had qualified for second-grade block M's, these had, by an oversight, not been granted, the reason being that technically, as Smelzer has already won the first grade, and Klein and Parsons the second-grade M's in previous years, such action was unnecessary. As a recognition of their work this year, however, three men were granted their small block M's. J. R. Dean and E. A. Cushing were also granted small plain M's for winning the Wicksteed silver and bronze medals, respectively, last year.

The important matter of the granting of M's for the inter-faculty football was now brought up, and after lengthy consideration of the judge's reports, the following grants were made:

For large block M's:
A. A. Brown Sci. '16
K. Rosborough Sci. '16
F. G. Rounthwaite Sci. '16
G. L. Trapp Sci. '17
C. M. Williscroft Sci. '16
H. Woollett Sci. '16

Madden, of Med. '20, would also have been granted a large M had he not failed to qualify by playing in 50 per cent. of his class games. He had not played for his class at all, and hence was ineligible for an M.

For small block M's:
L. E. Chantel Med. '18
F. J. Donnelly Med. '18
J. A. Ferguson Sci. '17

CHARGED WITH THEFT

Charged with the theft of $150 from the messenger of the Bursar's Office, whose sensational story of a hold-up in the Engineering Building was noted some days ago, Samuel Isidor and Charles Bennett were taken into custody yesterday morning by officers of Betts' Detective Agency, assisted by city men. The accused were brought before Judge St. Cyr in the Police Court, and entered a plea of not guilty. They were held for trial and will appear again on November 30.

Invitation Extended to Company by Capt. Eve to be Present.

To-night will see the opening of a series of smokers to be given at the Union, which were decided upon by the House Committee at their last meeting. This first smoker is to be tendered to the members of the Fourth University Company and gives every promise of being a huge success.

When the invitation was extended to the University Company through Captain Eve, over 110 men signified their intention of being present. The balance of the Company unfortunately made previous engagements.

The members of the Union, such as all of the undergraduate body are, will not need to be urged to be present at this function, and take advantage of the opportunity to become acquainted with the men of the company.

Talent will certainly not be lacking as the entertainments published below will show. Messrs. Dumbrell and McAlpin, two very well-known singers in Eastern Canada, will afford much pleasure to all hearers. An adequate number of smokers will be provided, and an enjoyable evening is certainly in store for all attending. This initial smoker for the full undergraduate body will start at 8.15 p.m., in the lounge rooms of the Union.

MOOT COURT IS REAL SUCCESS

Interesting Case is Well Argued by Future Lawyers.

JUSTICE GREENSHIELDS

No Decision Was Rendered, Judgment Being Reserved Until Next Tuesday.

The first Moot Court for the present session of the Faculty of Law received a good start last evening when a well-contested case was argued by four of the law students. Room B, Strathcona Hall, was the scene of the argumentation upon which Hon. Justice Greenshields, of the Supreme Court, presided.

Many of the members of the Faculty, including Dean Lee, Dr. Marler, Prof. Surveyer and Prof. Howard, attended, as well as most of the law students and a few outsiders.

J. N. Beauchamp, president of the Law Undergraduate Society, opened the evening with a few words in regard to the revival of the Moot Court, giving Dean Lee the credit for this revival.

H. Budyk, Law '16, senior counsel for the plaintiff, opened the case with a resume of the facts and an argument along the lines that a tacit consent had been given to the contract, substantiating his arguments with many quotations from reliable authorities, but was frequently questioned by the Judge as to his interpretation and stand on these citations.

P. Charbonneau, Law '16, senior counsel for the defendant, did not for a moment admit that there had been consent, either express or tacit, arguing that more than mere receipt of the document was needed for a valid acceptance.

T. J. Kelly, Law '17, junior counsel for the plaintiff, was brief in his remarks, but went straight to the heart of the question and argued that the mere fact of a signed document being delivered presumed a previous knowledge of the document, and therefore its mere physical acceptance constituted a valid consent, and therefore a binding contract was formed.

Frank Common, Law '17, junior counsel for the defence, denied the allegation of the junior counsel of the other side in respect to the presumption of previous knowledge of the contract, and went on to uphold the arguments advanced by his confere.

H. Budyk replied at length, dealing with the arguments of the defendant's counsel, especially upon the subject of consent.

His Honor refused to render a decision until next Tuesday. He summed up the case and presented the nucleus of the question in one sentence. Although he did not give an official opinion, from the remarks which he did make it would be concluded that he favors the defendant's views and would dismiss the action taken by A.

Dean Lee gave a short address, and thanked the Hon. Justice for his kindness in being present.

Dr. Marler would not say anything, because he said his opinions were directly opposite to those of the Justice, and that he would therefore allow him to render his decision first.

E. F. J. Coughlin, Law '16, moved a vote of thanks to the Hon. Justice and members of the faculty who attended, which was seconded by F. W. Hackett, president of Law '17.

Refreshments were served, and the meeting broke up about 11 p.m.

The C. O. T. C.

To the Editor of The Daily:

Dear Sir,—Although not a member of the C. O. T. C., I have been very much interested in the discussions which have taken place in The Daily columns during the past week or so relative to the attitude which The Daily, as the university organ, should take towards this freely-criticized university military organization. There have also been side issues which have arisen in the controversy, and as a member of the late class of Arts '15, I may be pardoned for commenting on one or two points which previous correspondents have made. I shall refer to my own personal stand regarding the C. O. T. C. further on, but for the time being let me refer to a statement in Mr. Wolff's letter on the 19th inst., when he "slams" the Arts course after this fashion: "Is an Arts training necessary to the welfare of the Empire? Will poetry and a superficial knowledge of a vast amount of subjects, and a sound knowledge of none, be of service now or in the future?" And again he puts it into the mouth of this unfortunate individual to say: "I had no definite practical end in view." I for one think statements like these should not be allowed to pass unchallenged by Arts men. No sane or sensible person will for a moment consider our medical friend the extremely great importance of our medical profession.

Most of us have had cause to be thankful at some time or another that we had some one near us who could locate a fractured bone, remove a troublesome appendix, or fight a contagious disease. But some of us think he could have been a little more logical, and even have stated facts. Well, isn't an Arts training necessary to the welfare of the country? For he from his next statement is not thinking merely of this crisis. Are our best lawyers, judges and statesmen of benefit to the Empire, and have most of them an Arts training? Are our High School teachers and University professors of any value whatever to their Empire? Are the students of the different theological colleges, most of whom take a course in Arts, of any service at all to the Empire? I may be wrong, but I am told that Mr. Wolff himself is a graduate (mind you) in this meant of course, I wonder why he took it, and I wonder why many medical men and science men, most practical men, you see—very often take either a full Arts course, or a double course to include Arts. Again, "the Arts man has no definite practical end in view." Let us see. A big section of Arts students are theological students. I wonder how they relish the compliment. Another important section takes it preparatory to taking up law. They take it for prestige. Still another by no means negligible number end up in science or medicine, deciding at first to broaden out their views before getting down to technical study. A lesser class decide to take up teaching, choosing either ordinary or honor courses with that END in view. We propose a problem for Mr. Wolff. It is to find the missing members of Arts after those have been removed, and the exact percentage who "have no end in view." We will give him a Christmas necktie if he wins.

We shall have something to say later about the uselessness of getting into a uniform and spending months of training with no intention whatever of proceeding overseas. We admit that here and now; for how much military training a man may get from the C. O. T. C., or any other military organization, however much potential value such a person may get from it, it is of no earthly use to our country in this present crisis. Mind, I said "this PRESENT CRISIS." And nothing else counts just now, for it needs a great stretch of the imagination to believe that this war will be carried into Canadian soil. The object in stating this is not to injure the C. O. T. C.; the purpose of this letter is to support it, and later we shall show for what the C. O. T. C. really stands. It is not to lessen the number of students who may join; for, after all, the only members of the C. O. T. C. who are of effective fighting value to their country are the overseas section, or those who propose going there. It is in justice to those who are not yet in the C. O. T. C., but whose sympathies are with it, and who have not yet made up their mind that they are serving their country better by getting one of the enemy bayoneted for a similar treatment to themselves, than they are by using their technical or professional training at what they have spent so many years to qualify for, and to attain which they have made so great sacrifices. Mind, I said, "not yet." For the war situation is not as rosy as some of us would like it to be for us, not just as near settlement on our own terms as most of us thought it would be by now; and to obtain this, we may yet have to revise our position, and decide that the call to arms is stronger than the call to duty at home. So far, so good. But one cannot read Mr. Wolff's letter impartially and not come to the conclusion that he wishes to show up the Arts student, in to say the least, a very unfavorable light. What are the facts regarding the military active service list by faculties? I may be permitted to give the subjoined data which was furnished at the Dean's office to a member of The Daily staff a couple of days ago, and who has kindly placed it at my disposal.

Students overseas or on active service (excluding last year's graduates) and including last year's and this year's undergraduates:

Medical Faculty (including hospital) 25
Science Faculty 33
Arts Faculty 36

We have no desire whatever to raise any controversy, or to engender ill-feeling between students of different faculties. It is never sensible, least of all now where, as never before, unity of purpose is so essential if we are to win for the civilized world the only liberty worth enjoying. But it seems to me that some of Mr. Wolff's statements were very much uncalled for. The facts I gave speak for themselves, and need no comment of mine. I might add, though, that it ill-behooves a medical student to cast any reflection on this faculty which has furnished its due quota of men, not for service where shells seldom or never burst and shots are not heard, but men for the trenches, where all of our Arts men have gone and many have nobly fallen. None of us are so devoid of common sense that we do not admit that the place of the medical student in this war, if anywhere, is in such a place as the hospital. We do not question that, but we do think he should have placed the honor for greatest service where that honor is due, viz., to the man who takes his rifle and bayonet and goes straight to the trenches, as our Science and Arts and Law men have done. The Medical man is needed to heal and to mend the broken limbs and body; but, surely the greater danger, greater sacrifice, is with the man in the infantry or engineering corps. The medical man in the McGill Hospital is undoubtedly serving his country, but at not so great a sacrifice as his fellow-students in Arts, Science and Law. He is getting in addition to serving his country the very best training in clinical and surgical work he could possibly get at the same time, and it does not take a prophet to predict that 98 per cent. of all medical men will come home after the war. How many, I wonder, from Arts, Science and Law? A study of casualty lists may help to furnish the answer.

There has been a great deal of cross-fire also on the subject of "American interference," and this day's issue contains another contribution. Let me say that I have no desire in this letter to antagonize American students, but the actions of some American students at McGill this year have been criticized, and in some respects rightly so. If, of course, some or a good many American students do not agree with their fellow-students on those matters, no criticism is directed at them. Mr. Gokey to-day says he speaks "plainly and bluntly." Well, perhaps two can play at that game, and in this case a Canadian student may be pardoned if he can show why. We wish only to refer to one point, one which evidently drew our friend into print, viz., his motion for a policy of neutrality in The Daily staff. Relative to this he says: "Every one present was in favor of neutrality." He may be surprised to know that to-day a member of that staff who was present at this famous meeting stated that he was not in favor of such a policy, that he with some others did not vote at all on the policy. (I have not the exact number just now who dissented, though did not protest.) He may say that this bears him out. Well, does it? Does it not flatly contradict the above statement, that everybody was in favor of neutrality? These gentlemen, furthermore, would have registered a protest if sufficient time and discussion had been given, so we are told. Apart from this altogether, we feel bound to say that even if the whole Daily staff (the Canadian section of it) were in favor of neutrality on military matters affecting the C. O. T. C., it was neither good taste nor good judgment for our American friend to move the resolution. An American student, we should have expected him to keep silent on a matter over which there was so much controversy, and which is so intimately bound up with this war. He cannot by any train of logic prove that his attitude was a neutral one towards this war. If the Canadian members of the staff desired to be neutral, then the undergraduate body could take it up and express their feelings as many have already done, by directing their shafts of criticism against such a policy. We do not believe any fair-minded student objects to an American student asking any questions on C. O. T. C. matters as far as it affects his studies, but to take an active part in suggesting neutrality for The Daily on military matters, even with all the staff so doing, is obviously going too far. We are not responsible for this war, but as a British university in this crisis McGill has a duty to perform, and full power and right to regulate her courses of study as to conform to what she deems to be that duty. Persons who attend McGill this year do so knowing the conditions, and should accept them without a "kick." We do not believe that any outside student has the shadow of a right to either suggest or dictate The Daily's policy during this war.

This leads us to the real discussion going on at present, namely: "What should be The Daily's attitude towards the C. O. T. C.?" Perhaps a little analysis of the situation may clear the air. There are three possible attitudes. First, one of pure antagonism. This is possible, but unthinkable. Second, one of enthusiastic support. Third, one of neutrality. All countries at present who have no direct interest in this war, and can manage to keep out of it, are trying to be neutral. Naturally, they are few. We don't blame them if they have a clear conscience; but the injustice of this war as carried on by our enemies and its unheard-of brutality as they have practised it, are making most such consciences uneasy. Be that as it may. Are we as students directly concerned in this war or not? Are our liberties at stake? Have we any classmates of last year now at the front, and some of them already sleeping in Flanders? If so, can we be neutral and say nothing? I have been told that The Daily is sympathetic, that it has published loads of military news, and so on. In my opinion, The Daily's opinion is the opinion expressed in the editorial columns, and my idea of sympathy is that it does not stay locked up in a person's heart, but finds expression in help of some form—words or actions. Has The Daily shown sympathy?

SIX-WEEKS' REST

Before committing myself on what I conceive to be the proper attitude for The Daily, let me analyze the functions of the C. O. T. C., if I may. Is it not true that its organization was, as stated in a letter in the issue of the 17th inst., "to give McGill students an opportunity of qualifying as officers in the territorial forces of the Empire?" Have its functions changed? We think, now as then, the military training does not carry with it the obligation to go overseas. But we do think that the officers who are now training this corps could not possibly afford the time to train men if they did not believe that a good percentage of men training would go overseas. We must then, I think, concede that the C. O. T. C. would not exist to-day if everybody who joined stated that he had no intention whatever of enlisting for active service. I should be glad to be corrected if I am wrong. There can, I think, be no reason for The Daily's not urging all who can, and particularly those who in the freshman class have to take some form of athletics, to join the C. O. T. C. from the standpoint of pure training. But presumably where The Daily halts and where some of the correspondents have likewise objected, is in urging men to join to go overseas, feeling that it is a personal matter. Many have not joined because they cannot see that they are making any direct contribution to their country unless they join and proceed overseas. And the writer is, rightly or wrongly, of the same opinion. It is obvious then that the primary object of the C. O. T. C. in this crisis is to train men for the front, and for The Daily to urge men to join for mere military training, but not for overseas, is not to carry its influence beyond our own university athletics.

We think, however, that The Daily should not frame its policy from the apparent opinion of the student body at the annual meeting, for the sentiment was not against the C. O. T. C. training, but the method. That is to say, there was no lack of patriotism at the meeting. Most men have their minds made up perhaps what they will do this year as regards active service, but some may not. In any case, to conceive it to be The Daily's duty to look at the matter from the standpoint of our vital interest in the war; and that as representing the student body it should remember the McGill boys who are already at the front, who have sacrificed not merely courses or a year, but limbs and in many cases lives for liberties which we here and now enjoy, and ask if it can be far astray in urging all who can to join, and join for overseas. There are some of us who have not yet been able to decide that we can better serve our king and country by sweeping away at one stroke years of study and training to take chances on destroying one or two of our country's enemies. Others, however, have made sacrifices just as great; and it may come to this yet, that we shall find, as before stated, the call to arms stronger than the call to duty at home. If so, we shall not stop with preliminary training in the C. O. T. C., and "wild charges on the Park Side," necessary as this training is for the trenches, but with fixed bayonet on the blood-soaked fields of Flanders or on the no less crimsoned hills of the Peninsula of Gallipoli.

Hoping that I have not unduly trespassed on space, and that the views presented may help to cover co-operation between The Daily and the C. O. T. C.

J. MORAN,
B.Sc. '15.

756 University street, Nov. 23, 1915.

Ed. Note.—Our correspondent states that several members of its staff were opposed to the proposed policy of The Daily at the meeting of the staff last month. Every opportunity was given to those present to air their opinions on the matter, and the plea that sufficient time for discussion was not afforded is entirely without foundation. The policy of The Daily has never been one of neutrality towards military affairs, but it has refrained from urging all students to join the C. O. T. C. irrespective of their preferences for some other branch of the service or for some other method of qualifying. Our correspondent is quite right when he states that the criticism directed by certain persons against the C. O. T. C. has not dealt with its objects, but with the methods of the men in charge of the corps last year.

The Daily has frequently urged in its editorial columns that all students should take some form of military work, and if possible go overseas, but it considers that the particular corps any student joins is a matter for the individual to decide.

To change the subject, apologies for lengthy screeds do not shorten them, and while correspondents are always welcome, The Daily is a newspaper.

INTER-YEAR DEBATE.

R.Y.C. Will Debate on Question of Admission of Women to Bar.

This afternoon, at 4 o'clock, the first of the inter-year debates will be held in the common room. The question for debate is, "Resolved, that women should be allowed to practise law in the Province of Quebec." The affirmative will be supported by Miss St. Clair Caldwell and Miss Marjorie Fletcher, of '17, and the negative by Miss Mary Currie and Miss Margaret Cameron, of '16. As the debaters have spared no trouble in working up their side of the question, this should be a very interesting meeting, and all students are cordially invited. Miss Harbutt, Dr. Thompson and Professor Slack have kindly consented to act as judges.

ALL ABOUT A PARADE.

Medical Students and College Newspaper Clash at University of Toronto.

The Students' Council at Toronto is investigating a charge that 200 Medical students recently held a parade down Yonge street, thereby breaking the Students' Council laws, which forbid any parade of students. The Varsity, which published the story, accepts responsibility for its publication and claims that it has evidence to show that it was not in error. The president of the Second Year Meds., on the other hand, emphatically denies that anything in the nature of a parade occurred, and declares that the report in the Varsity was both wrong and erroneous. Further developments are expected.

MEDICOS READY FOR DEBATES

Diocesan and Presbyterian College Have Also Entered Teams.

TEAMS ARE SELECTED

American Neutrality is Chosen as Subject For Debate Next Monday.

The next classes to make their debut in the inter-class series of debates are Medicine '19 and '17, and the Diocesan College, who will hold forth at the next regular meeting on Monday. The first debate is that between Medicine '17 and Medicine '19, on the subject, "Resolved that the commission form of government should be established in the city of Montreal." The affirmative is to be taken by the 2nd year, represented by H. M. Young and R. C. Legge, while F. J. Scully and J. R. Nugent, of the 4th year, will uphold the negative.

The second debate is between Law '18 and the Diocesan College, who will argue on the question of American neutrality. "Resolved that the United States is morally justified in adopting a neutral attitude in the present war." Law '18 will argue in favor of the affirmative and the Diocesan on the negative. The teams have not yet been chosen, but there should be no trouble in finding men to express their opinions on such a subject as this.

All the classes have now definitely entered the league and it is now possible for the executive to draw up the schedule for the whole season. A meeting will be held during the week, when all arrangements will be completed for the series.

COMMISSION FOR R. S. W. ROBERTSON

Invalided to England From the Trenches With Attack of Rheumatism.

R. Ward S. Robertson, who crossed with the 14th Battalion, C.E.F., writes:

Dear — Do not become thrilled at the above address. I am not the gory recipient of a glorious wound, and German frightfulness has still left me unmarked. I guess our old friend H20 has had more to do than anything else in knocking me out. In Christian language I have been laid up with rheumatism a little over a month. I gradually worked my way down to the coast, through half a dozen hospitals. Finally, I was shipped across the channel. I am really in luck, as I get my leave soon.

It was unfortunate that while I was on my way from France to England the Second Contingent was travelling from England to France, so I missed seeing a lot of old friends. Nevertheless, when I got back I managed to get a day off with my brother. We saw "Chippy" for a short time. He has become a sergeant and looked O.K. when we saw him.

You will be surprised to hear that I am leaving on the 14th. I have received a English commission in a territorial regiment, in which I know a couple of officers.

I suppose you are well into the middle of the term now, and, of course, working hard.

I would be very pleased to receive a few interesting copies of the Daily. Remember me to all the boys.

Yours, ever,

R. WARD S. ROBERTSON.

HISTORICAL CLUB.

Meeting To-night Will Discuss the History of Serbia.

The second regular meeting of the Historical Club will be held this evening at Dr. Colby's residence, when two papers will be read on Serbia. This is a particularly interesting subject at the present time when the Balkans are in such a turmoil and state of unrest. The first paper, to be read by Mr. Blampin, deals with Alexander and Draga, while Mr. Heinbecker will read the second paper on Serbia and Bulgaria. Both of these should produce much interesting discussion, and a large attendance is expected.

CHEMICAL COLLOQUIUM.

Papers Will Be Read by C. A. Fort and W. J. Geldard.

At the regular chemical colloquium to be held in the chemistry building this afternoon, at 5 o'clock, the following subjects will be presented: "Beta-Lactones," by C. A. Fort, and "The Manufacture of Gasoline as a By-Product from High Boiling Petroleum Oils by the Action of Aluminium Chloride," by W. J. Geldard.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS OF MANDOLIN CLUB.

MUCH EXCITEMENT OVER R.V.C. SERIES

Basketball Double Header to be Staged at R.V.C. This Afternoon.

The second match in the inter-year basketball series at the R. V. C. will be played this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. This time the seniors will come up against the sophomores, the juniors against the freshmen. This latter match especially ought to be very interesting, as both were winners last week. It is to be hoped that to-day will show a great improvement in the play from last time.

The following girls are asked to turn out:

Seniors—M. Cameron, H. Fraser, G. Macdonald, A. Younger, R. Shearing, P. Durrell, M. Currie and E. Henry. Juniors—M. Spier, J. Klein, W. Wyatt, K. McClosky, E. Price, H. Kelly, D. Hicks and F. Things Theatrical

THE IMPERIAL.

An unusually large and enthusiastic audience greeted the new bill at the Imperial yesterday afternoon. The music was lively and attractive, the soloists received hearty applause, and the programme as a whole could not have given better satisfaction. The chief offering was a wonderful Metro starfilm, called "Four Feathers," which proved to be a British war story of unusual interest produced under the direction of J. Searle Dawley. Howard Estabrook is the star and who impersonated the character of a young officer who has had fear instilled into his heart during his early youth by tales of war and its horrors. When his regiment is ordered to the front his old fear seizes him and he resigns his commission, and then three of his best friends—brother officers—present him with white feathers, as symbols of cowardice, and to these a fourth is added by his fiancée. It all comes out happily and the intervening scenes develop a strong and superb dramatic interest and many thrills. It is all produced with exquisite taste and very wonderful scenic effect. "Four Feathers" certainly stands out as about the finest picture of its kind ever seen in Montreal, and the enthusiastic applause it has received proves that the public like it.

A clever comedy entitled, "When Father was the Goat," and unusually attractive animal picture completing the pictorial bill. Pathe News showed many scenes of interest.

Particularly delightful was the number originated and conducted by Musical Director, Leon Kofmann, "The March of the Allies," in which as each inspiring national anthem was played in a spirited fashion by the orchestra, the flags of the various countries were waved. Great enthusiasm was demonstrated by the audience as the patriotic air progressed, each nation's anthem being greeted by applause that grew with a sweeping crescendo of patriotic feeling, culminating in cheers when it reached its glorious ending.

SHAUGHNESSY RE-ENGAGED

Signs Contract to Coach Football Team Next Season.

IN EVENT OF COMPETITION

Students' Council Discussed Other Important Matters Last Night.

Frank Shaughnessy, the man who won two intercollegiate football championships for McGill and with a weakened team accomplished wonders towards the winning of a third, has signed a contract to again take charge of the coaching of the McGill team in the event of intercollegiate football being played next season. Announcement to this effect was made public at the meeting of the Students' Council last night at the Union.

Mr. Shaughnessy's contract is on the same terms as that signed by him last year. In the event of non-participation of the Rugby Football Club in intercollegiate competition, the agreement will become null and void.

It was unanimously decided to start a fund for the purchasing of photographs of Lance-Corp. Fred. Fisher, V.C., Sci. '17, and Captain F. A. C. Scrimger, V.C., Med. '05, to be hung in the lounge room of the Union. The Council authorized an expenditure of $10 to start this fund. The subscription list is to be left in the hands of the hall porter of the Union.

The amended estimates of the Orchestra and Hockey Clubs were passed.

Permission was granted the University Settlement for the use of the campus rink two periods per week.

Mr. W. H. Hovey, Sci. '16, was appointed manager of the Hockey Club for the coming season.

ANOTHER PRACTICE FOR THE FENCERS

Inter-faculty Bouts Will Take Place After the Christmas Holidays.

This afternoon the fencers will have another practice at the Union. A better arrangement has been reached with the Union authorities about the matter of obtaining lockers for members of the club. These may now be secured by fencers and wrestlers for fifty cents. It is hoped that all interested will continue to turn out regularly so as to get a good knowledge of the elements of the sport before Christmas. After the holidays it will not be long before the inter-faculty assault-at-arms takes place, and the present showing there will be several new men sufficiently advanced by that time to enter the fencing competitions. Wickenden, Terroux and Lowe are the only ones left who took part in last year's assault-at-arms, but Audette and Macklin are working hard and will no doubt be in good shape for the inter-faculty bouts, while Mooney and Kelly amongst the beginners are rapidly acquiring a knowledge of sword-play. In fact, all the beginners who have been attending the classes are coming on very creditably, and it is hard to make any choice amongst them. The sport is one in which extreme quickness and accuracy are necessary, and consequently even the most experienced fencers require constant practice. The fencer who has to stop to think what move to make generally finds a hit registered against him before he has time to do what he has decided upon. The only way is to practise the attacks and parries until they are done almost instinctively.

The practice this afternoon will take place at 5 o'clock in the Union, as usual. The following men who have attended the previous classes are requested to be present, and also any one else who wishes to begin: Wickenden, Terroux, Audette, Lowe, Macklin, Aggiman, Auld, Kelly, McLarty, Howard, Brandes, Golt, Mouquin, Common, Mooney and Hale.

AUTHORITIES AT OTTAWA RELIEVED

Law '18 Holds an Exciting Debate on an Important Question.

Yesterday Law '18 held its usual weekly meeting. The question, "Is conscription constitutional in Canada," was the storm-centre of yesterday's discussion. Mr. J. G. Ahern attempted to prove the negative; and Mr. C. McCaffrey maintained that the Dominion Government had no such right. In the lively discussion that followed, the majority upheld the conclusion of the affirmative. No doubt, the authorities at Ottawa will be greatly relieved to hear the decision, since any effort which they might undertake in the direction of conscription is henceforth ensured the legal sanction of our brilliant embryological jurists.

COMMUNITY PROBLEMS.

J. S. Woodsworth to Give Third Talk at Royal Victoria College.

The third of J. S. Woodsworth's talks on "Community Problems" will be given in the common room of the R.V.C. this afternoon at 3.15 sharp. The subject to be dealt with is "The City Problem," one of particular interest to the undergraduates to-day. With this opportunity of hearing the topic so ably treated, it is urged that every one make an effort to attend this short lecture on it.

POSITION FOR GRADUATE.

Post is Vacant in Coke Oven Plant of Algoma Steel Corporation.

A McGill graduate is wanted to take a position in the coke oven plant of the Algoma Steel Corporation.

The work at first would be designing and drawing for repairs and minor changes, and should lead to an operating position in connection with by-product coking. The position would be suitable for a graduate in chemical, mechanical or metallurgical engineering.

Enquiries for further particulars can be made through Dr. Stansfield.

PARTIALS' MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Partial Students' Society on Thursday, at five o'clock, in the common room. The first act of the play to be given will be read and parts assigned. A full attendance is requested. Those who would be willing to help in the play, but are unable to attend the meeting are asked to sign their names below the notice on the R.V.C. board.

Will Your Chum Spend Christmas

"Somewhere in France"?

Then help him spend it Merrily!

Nothing is too good to send to the boys who are serving King and Country. But let our gifts show thought and judgment as well as good-will and love.

Among the few really acceptable gifts—smokes and pipes, chocolates and sweet biscuits, fountain pens and tooth brushes, toilet and shaving supplies—the Gillette Safety Razor ranks as a warm favorite, for one of the real luxuries of trench life is a clean, comfortable Gillette shave.

It's a luxury the lucky ones share with their pals, so send along plenty of extra blades. If he has a Gillette already, a few boxes of blades will go far toward making him the most popular man in his Company.

Welcome as it is on the firing line, the Gillette is even more keenly appreciated in the hospitals. With it the wounded can shave themselves safely, easily and regularly. They certainly do enjoy the Gillette—and Doctors and Nurses can scarcely speak well enough of it.

Gillette "Bulldog" and Standard Sets cost $5.00 each—compact Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00—Combination Sets, including Soap, Brush, etc., $6.50 up. If you wish it, your Druggist, Jeweler or Hardware Dealer will arrange delivery through us, at the Front, of the Set you select, without shipping expense to you.

1916 ANNUAL NOW IS AT HALF PRICE

Still Several Copies of Junior Year Publication to be Disposed of.

The remnant of the Business Board of the 1916 Annual met a few days ago to discuss ways and means of disposing of the copies of the publication still in their hands. Last year 600 copies of the book were published, which is the number issued in normal years. The result of the decrease in and addresses of any undergraduate in many of our boys for the front is that there are still a few copies to be disposed of. These the Board has decided to offer for sale at $1.25 per copy, which is exactly one-half the regular price. While they last, copies can be obtained from the janitors and from Mr. Culyer at the Union. The books will be withdrawn from sale about December 15th so as to avoid a conflict with the sale of the 1917 Annual.

Lieut. R. T. Young, Comm. '14, who was wounded at the second battle of Ypres, and has been invalided home for the last two or three months, is returning to France shortly to rejoin his unit, the First Battery, 1st Brigade, C.F.A.

D. McGregor, Med. '20, would also have been granted a small M had he played for his class in their game.

At the next meeting a decision will be reached as to the granting of numbers.

As the next item of business, an application from the Hockey Club to be allowed to enter a team in the City Hockey League was granted.

The case of F. H. Booth, of Sci. '17, who played class football without being physically examined, was brought up. He was suspended indefinitely from all college athletics.

The meeting finally adjourned at 7.15 p.m. for the nearest restaurant.

Of the Princeton men who started the game on Saturday, only three will be lost by graduation next June. They are: Lamberton, end; Captain Glick, quarterback, and Shea, halfback. Captain Glick will be missed the most.

HENDRION RECITAL AT THE RITZ-CARLTON

Large and Enthusiastic Audience Attends Recital of Belgian Pianist.

Theo Hendrion, the Belgian pianist, gave a very successful recital last evening at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. The ballroom of the Ritz was well filled with enthusiastic listeners. Although scarcely twenty-six years of age, Mr. Hendrion's playing was characterized by its maturity and depth. With a strong, bold and convincing style he won much well-merited applause. The programme follows:

Sonata Op. 109.....L. von Beethoven

Vivace ma non troppo

Prestissimo.

Andante, molto mantabile con variation.

Fantasy Pieces.....Robert Schumann

1. "In the Evening."

2. "Soaring."

3. "Why?"

4. "Whims."

5. "In the Night."

6. "Fable."

7. "Dream Visions."

8. "End of the Song" (Epilogue).

Ballade in B minor.....F. Liszt

Romance Sans Paroles, in G major,

No. 26.....Mendelssohn

Moment Musical, in F minor, Schubert

Sonata in B flat minor.....Chopin

Grave, Doppio movimento.

Scherzo.

Marche funebre.

Finale, Presto.

Ballade.....Claude Debussy

Jardins Sous la Pluie.....

.....Claude Debussy

Variations on a theme of Paganini!

In Two Books.....J. Brahms

(First and Second Books.)

In the "Fable" and in Schubert's

"Moment Musical," Mr. Hendrion displayed a clear delicacy of execution which gave them their true charming effect. His interpretation of Debussy was deserving of special merit. Mr. Hendrion was at his best interpretive power in the Brahms Variations. He overcame most of its tremendous technical difficulties, although his technique was slightly overtaxed in several places.

Mr. Hendrion's greatest limitations are in the matter of tone. It was lack of tone in the forte passages which rather spoiled an otherwise masterful rendering of the Liszt Ballade. The

Beethoven and the Chopin Sonatas were ruined through a hard and rather harsh tone. Mr. Hendrion gave two encores.—E. S.

SCIENCE MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

Will Send Christmas Presents to Undergraduates
Overseas.

The following men are requested to be present at a meeting to be held this afternoon, at 4.45 p.m., in Room 37, Engineering Building: N. Binks, J. Shanly, H. Balm, F. Hale, C. Parke, R. Reid, J. Liddy, G. Dick, E. Grace.

It is important that all the above men be present with their lists of undergraduates in Science and graduates in Science '15 who have gone overseas, address and information.

It is hoped that every man in Science will do his best to help the Committees in this work, not only in their subscriptions, but also giving to the different committees the names enrolment and of the departure of Science who are overseas.

It is an exceedingly difficult task to obtain the addresses of some of these men by individuals, but if there is any man who knows the address of any undergraduate in Science, or graduate of the class of Science '15, who is overseas, if he will mention it to any of the men on the list printed above it will help the committee greatly.

There is no time to be lost if the boys are to get their Christmas Boxes in time, and any information regarding any Science man at the front is welcomed by us. W. S. Sutherland, Pres.
